

Transcription of video:

What is the difference between educational technology and assistive technology?

[Sean McDade: I think the difference between educational technology and assistive technology is moving towards a full inclusive classroom. Assistive technology perhaps is something we used to do, and now with educational technology, it's more of a community based approach and all of the assistive technology is made available in the classroom. So assistive technology are technologies that are just a part of the educational technology classroom.]

Learning Module:

Technology for All: Supporting Students with LDs by Integrating Technology into Classroom Instruction